About TB Europe Coalition

Established in 2009, TBEC is a regional advocacy network of civil society organizations and individuals from across the World Health Organization (WHO) Europe region, comprising Western and Eastern Europe, Caucasus and Central Asia. The network aims to strengthen the role of civil society within the regional response to TB and ensure political and financial commitments to end TB. Currently, TBEC has more than 200 members from more than 30 countries in the region. In 2017, TBEC was registered as a legal entity in the Netherlands to step up its regional and national advocacy, capacity building, and support for country-led TB advocacy initiatives. The TBEC Secretariat is located in Kyiv and is responsible for the coordination, communication, administration, programmatic, and policy management of the network.

Background information on the project

UNICEF project “Support community-based health care services for children and mothers at SPILNO Children Points and Centers for Internally displaced people” is aimed at improving access to community-based health services for conflict-affected children and mothers through the network of SPILNO Children Points.

Health care services in up to 40 SPILNO Children points will be provided within the project. It is expected that doctors at each point examine children and provide medical consultations to them. In addition to the examination, doctors will offer parents to fill in screening questionnaires for children and their family members, which will contain questions that will help focus parents' attention on possible health risks for their children, as well as recommendations for further actions (including redirection to other UNICEF programs - those will be determined jointly by TBEC and UNICEF). The doctor will hand the completed screening questionnaires to the parents so that they have all the necessary information regarding institutions they can apply for further support. Children from SPILNO Points will also benefit via referral to facilities that received medical vouchers.

Based on SPILNO Points, the project will closely cooperate with the USAID-funded program “Fighting Misinformation about Vaccines” which engaged medical mobilizers for immunization to ensure behavior change of parents and service providers about immunization.
